

Contact Details

Phone:
01628 627289

Email:
bob@lineoutrecords.com

Web:
www.lineoutrecords.com
www.historyofguns.com

Line Out Records
98 Aldebury Road
Maidenhead
Berkshire
SL6 7HE
UK

Release Details

Release Date: 07/07/2008

Running Time: 42 m 50 s

Tracks:

1. Born, Brutalised, Bought then Buried
2. It's Easy (To Go Blind)
3. ...But I'll be waiting
4. Exhaust Fumes
5. What Have They Done to Us?
6. Never Forgive You
7. No Eternal Reward
8. Empty Eyes
9. Drag On
10. Killing MySelf Until I Die

Catalogue No: LINE10

History of Guns - ACEDIA

Acedia is the third studio album by UK electro-rock band History of Guns and their first released through Line Out Records.

Confrontational, angry and bleak lyrically, Acedia also manages to be contrastingly touching and melodic without a hint of the pantomime that often comes with bands who consider themselves to be 'dark'. The album is filled to the brim with a reasoned and intelligent nihilistic hatred that is both moving and darkly fascinating. A cruel, relentless work of experience, of feeling and of humanity.

Bob Barker, Line Out Records says:

"Working with History of Guns is terrifying and exhilarating. They leave no space for ego and refuse to compromise musically. Never scared to try something new, never afraid to risk scaring off the audience, which as yet they have failed to do. Truly captivating aural abuse."

History Of Guns say:

"Our previous releases have been mixtures of different styles. For this album we wanted to scale back the electronica and concentrate on just the guitar aspect of our sound, put it under the microscope, develop it and see where it would take us."

There are many definitions of the word ACEDIA out there, but the one that best fits with our decision to use it as a title would be, "a total absence of spiritual light"."

For additional information please visit:

<http://www.lineoutrecords.com/bands/HistoryOfGuns/ACEDIA/>

Praise for Previous History of Guns Releases

"Thought provoking, catchy and depressing all in one. What more could you want. We like this!" - Hard Wired

"An astonishing piece of music." - CoolNoise

"Anger is vital here, and highly infectious as the band communicate their discontent through catchy tunes and raging melodies." - Sonic Curiosity

"oddly brilliant, like a goth metal Underworld" - Metal Hammer

"they are, by far, the most inventive UK band to have got their hands caught in the Industrial threshing machine." - Mick Mercer

"a bizarrely compelling journey through the backwaters of a very, very disturbed soul" - Teletext

Notes for Editors

History of Guns are available for interview.

For more information on History of Guns or Line Out Records please get in touch using the contact details above. If you would like a promotional copy of this release or any other Line Out Release contact bob@lineoutrecords.com.